- Join us for a Bird Walk on Sunday, September 13, at 9:30 am, along Montauk State Park's Seal Haul Out Trail, led by Frank Quevedo of South Fork Natural History Museum. This will be a moderate-paced 1.5-mile hike through dense woodlands that opens onto Block Island Sound. Sign up online.

- In addition to programs, the Montauk Library Bird Club offers resources for learning about local natural history. Check out a birding backpack from the Library of Things or stop by the new books display for recent publications in conservation science, bird photography, and nature journaling. Do you want to see more resources for learning about the natural world? Submit your feedback in the survey at the bottom of this email or reply with other ideas.
 - We are excited to announce a generous birdseed sponsorship from Audubon Park. You can view our feeder station from the library's children's deck.
